Message from the Chair:

Those dark chilly evenings when we spend energy trying to boost the volume of the TV to drown out the snoring of Labradors in front of the warm fireplace are upon us. Cold mornings have had a few Labradors hesitate at the threshold. This is the time when nature sleeps. But this is the time when Labrador enthusiasts are busy as beavers trying to plan the year's events. Computer Monitors glow, cell phones text, telephone's ring and letters are written, emailed, scanned, faxed and yes some even delivered by the post office still. E-transfers are made to support specialties, judge's contracts are signed, airlines are researched, Facebook is buzzing, and plans are made. Entry forms are done online and we're off! 2013 is going to be a great year!

So far we have:-

Atlantic NB - National May 2013 ☺ Quebec –

Regional June 2013 ☺ Manitoba – Regional August

2013 ☺ Ontario – Regional August 2013

☺

News:

As of November the LRCC Inc is now qualified to hold licensed Rally Obedience shows! CKC has added Select Dog points to regular shows and have added a Grand Champion Excellent Title. Baby Puppy classes and Veteran's classes are available for shows wishing to have these classes. CKC is researching a new point system; the Minister of Agriculture has been consulted about implementing a few of the changes from the November 2011 CKC ballot.

Hope to see you at some of the shows this year.../M

Directors Introductions: Normally we would have reports from the directors but thought you'd like to meet your new directors instead.

Director Introduction:

(Anne (L) and her sister surrounded by Caorunn Labradors.

Anne Morrison:

Anne was born in Ottawa and grew up in Kleinburg, Ontario, graduated from Queen's University, BSc (Hon) in Biology and Chemistry, and moved to BC as a Grad student. She's married to Duncan Morrison and they have 3 grown children and 3 grandchildren. Living near Victoria, they started breeding Labradors under the kennel name Caorunn in 1981, concentrating on chocolates, and blacks. Anne & Duncan have had good success in the show ring, in obedience and recently returned to field work doing hunt tests. (Anne's favorite Labrador activity). They have also owned & bred Welsh Cobs, Section D of the Welsh Pony Stud Book and presently have 2 Cob Mares.

In her 'spare time' Anne enjoys gardening, bird watching and reading. They have done some travelling and this has included foreign dog shows whenever possible.

Notes from your executive:

1)

There has been a suggestion from a member asking that we develop an advertizing method for helping members sell their litters. This could be done via the website or newsletter for a fee. Discussion and a vote were initiated. The vote was 6-3 against.

2)

You will notice that we are asking you to vote on Constitution, Bylaw and Standing Resolution changes. These changes are not major but we are trying to clarify wording in most cases. When you package comes – please read it carefully, vote and return the ballot.

3)

Nationals: The National for 2013 is in NB in May. Roger Bannister has sent an email to everyone asking for class sponsors.

4)

We would like to use pictures that you send us of your dogs in the newsletter....please send them to me – torngat@shaw.ca

5)

Advertize your kennel in the Newsletter – advertizing rates apply.

6)

Please send results of Regional shows. – If we have them – we'll publish them.

7)

Let us know what you'd like to see in the Newsletter.

LET'S ID OUR LABRADORS AND HAVE A PUBLIC LIST

Any corrections or additions are welcome.

In the past there have been Labradors arrive at Shelters or Vet Clinics and identification has been a problem. If we keep this list current we can help these Labradors find their way home.

The Breeder

A breed will stand or fall according to its breeders – not its loyal fanciers, not its judges and handlers, not its exhibitors and trainers. For the breeder is the only link between the past and the future, only through him can the breed stay alive.

Like the sculptor, the painter, the poet, he is driven by creative compulsion. But he, more than any of the others, is caught up in the race against time. The sculptor works in stone, his mistakes can be changed by the chisel. The breeder works in flesh, his mistakes may take generations to correct. The sculptor can put his work away and eventually come back to it; the breeder is a captive of his breed and can never really leave it.

Why then does a breeder stay a breeder? The answer is, that of all the activities in the dog sport, he alone has the joy of creation and the pride of enduring handiwork!

When proud owners bring back a fine animal for him to see years after it was sold by him as a puppy, he notes with a thrill how it has developed in just the way he thought it would. While they are happily telling him what a marvelous creature this is, he is scarcely listening as he stares at the dog, for he is not only seeing what they are, but so much more.

With mounting excitement, he watches that imperious stance, so familiar, that proudly arched neck and the keen steady gaze right out of the past, he does not see just ONE handsome dog standing there before him, but all the wonderful ones which went into the making of this one – dogs which he loved and knew so well . . . and now sees living again. This is the fascination of the breeder. This is the treasure of eternal youth!
